

Fornite and League of Legends Phishing Attacks

The bad guys are targeting game players on the Fornite and League Of Legends platforms. They are basically going directly after your children using phishing and social media. Specifically, they are offering free v-bucks, a digital currency used to buy virtual goods in Fornite, but worth real money.

Please make kids aware that there are literally thousands of scam sites out there, trying to rope them in with social engineering tactics. Teach your kids to Think Before They Click! The best way to avoid scams is to only purchase v-bucks directly from the "Fornite" store — and never share your account information online.

PS: Did you know that KnowBe4 has free security awareness training for the house? It's an hour worth of training that covers the areas parents are most concerned about regarding online safety. This is the link:

and the password has been kept really easy by design: it's simply: homecourse

Let's stay safe out there!
